Workforce Development • Health Policy • Quality Care

ICAN is a program of the NJCCN, funded through a private/public partnership of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the state of New Jersey.

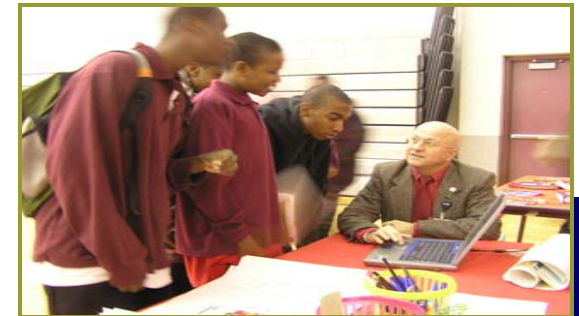

The ICAN Volunteer Model was originally designed in 2004 by the Nurse Workforce Solution Project.

Let Everyone Know You Care about the Future of Nursing

Everyday nurses influence health and wellness by providing information, care and compassion to patients, clients, students, colleagues, friends and family.

You can influence the health of your community. Now and in the Future

By joining the "I Care About Nursing" Team (ICAN) you will have the opportunity to interact with children, teens, and adults expanding their knowledge about Nursing career paths and educational opportunities as well as providing health literacy information.

As a nursing role model and educator you can further help empower your community to achieve its health potential. Additionally, you will have opportunities to mentor nursing colleagues as they pursue professional career advancements.

There are many volunteer activities available—you are sure to find an area that interests you.

Volunteer Opportunities

- School Activities
- Mentoring & Tutoring
- Career Fairs & Community Events
- Behind the Scenes Support

Benefits and Resources

ICAN members have access to information guides, scripts, and materials for children and adults. We provide mentoring materials for entry level and advanced nursing students and colleagues. Beginning January 2008, contact hours can be obtained for several training sessions.

Because we are a statewide network we provide you access to a wide variety of materials such as "Get in the Picture" nursing career brochures, coloring books, computer games, videos, presentations, certificates, handouts, and much more.

All K-12 programs integrate NJ Core Curriculum Educational Standards.

ICAN programs also provide age appropriate health literacy information including avenues to become better consumers of health services, wellness promotion, healthy lifestyles, illness prevention, and safety topics.

One person can make a difference. You can be that person!

A message from an ICAN member —

This volunteer program provides nurses opportunities to advance our profession through community service. ICAN members are making a difference by educating the public and being positive community role models. The ICAN mission & goals guide us in our efforts to decrease the Nursing workforce shortage and enhance health awareness. Reaching greater numbers at earlier ages will help prepare and nurture individuals interested in nursing, encourage and assist nurses who wish to advance their education and nursing careers, and increase the number of Nurse educators. I love doing this and I know "I can" make a difference in my community. Please join us....
